

Two held for shooting at Gau Raksha Dal volunteers: Police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
GURGAON, JULY 7

TWO MEN who allegedly shot and injured two Gau Raksha Dal volunteers last month were arrested late Wednesday night, said Gurgaon Police. The shooting took place on June 25 morning when six volunteers of the group were attempting to confront alleged beef transporters on the Kundli-Manesar-Palwal Expressway.

Police identified the arrested men as Javed and Iklash. They were on a motorbike which was accompanying the vehicle suspected to be transporting beef and had shot at the volunteers, said police. While one Gau Raksha Dal volunteer sustained injuries on his lower abdomen, the other was shot in the hand.

Police nabbed the two men following a tip-off that they would be at Indri Mod, Sohna, said sources. The two accused were involved in various criminal activities, the sources added. According to police, six stolen vehicles were seized from the accused. "They admitted to being behind crimes in several states, including Rajasthan and Haryana, and have at least 20 FIRs lodged against them in different states," said Subhash Boken, PRO of Gurgaon Police, Thursday.

Police: Main accused in Bhajanpura property dealer's murder arrested

ABHISHEK ANGAD
NEW DELHI, JULY 7

DELHI POLICE'S Special Cell has arrested two persons in connection with the murder of property dealer Kailash Gupta in northeast Delhi's Bhajanpura last month. Gupta was shot dead in broad daylight in Bhajanpura chowk on June 21. His son Rajan and three others were seriously injured in the attack.

Prime accused Sunil Pehalwan, who allegedly shot Gupta, was arrested along with his associate Sandeep Tyagi after police received a tip-off about their location.

Acting on the input, the Special Cell deployed a team in Dilshad Garden, which soon spotted the car Pehalwan was supposed to be in. "A Santro car was spotted near General Hospital, Dilshad Garden, and police signalled it to stop. The passengers in the car opened fire at police, but they were overpowered and arrested," said Deputy Commissioner of Police (Special Cell) Pramod Kushwah.

Police suspect seven or eight people were involved in the planning and execution of the murder. They also believe that the duo were involved in several armed robberies, abduction and at least three murder cases in Delhi-NCR and Uttar Pradesh.

The Indian Express had earlier reported that police have zeroed in on Pehalwan — who had been accused of the abduction and murder of Gupta's elder son Vishal last year — as the prime suspect.

Gupta was the main witness in the case and he was supposed to appear for a court hearing in the case soon. According to police, Pehalwan, who allegedly ran a gang in northeast Delhi and Loni area, had a dispute with Gupta earlier.

Initial investigation has revealed that Pehalwan didn't want Gupta to depose against him, said police. "Gupta was the complainant and prime witness in his son's murder case. The accused were pressurising him to withdraw the case," said the DCP.

Moments before he was shot in a crowded area in Bhajanpura, Gupta, who was on a motorcycle along with his son, was talking on the phone. "It is yet to be ascertained if the man he was talking to was a co-conspirator," said Kushwah.

Gupta's younger son Rajan, a martial arts champion, had sustained severe injuries in the attack. Days after the incident, both his legs had to be amputated, as they were infected due to the bullet injuries.

After arrest of man who 'harassed' 1,500 women: Mumbai, Kolkata police report similar cases

ABHISHEK ANGAD
NEW DELHI, JULY 7

A DAY after the arrest of a 31-year-old Mohammed Khalid, who allegedly harassed nearly 1,500 women over the phone, Delhi Police have widened the probe and have sought information about similar cases from their counterparts in Mumbai and Kolkata.

After news of Khalid's arrest surfaced, officials of Kolkata Police sent details of another case, where a woman had been harassed in a similar manner, along with a picture of the suspect. "There may be more victims in other cities... we have asked police teams from other states to give details of calls made from the local phone number of the accused," said a senior police officer who is investigating the case.

He added, "We have received a message from Kolkata Police, along with a photo of the accused, who used the same modus operandi. The picture seems to be that of Khalid, but we have asked for more details to confirm that."

Delhi Police have also been approached by their counterparts from Mumbai, who have sought more details about this particular case, said the officer.

"Mumbai Police have asked for details so that they can share the information with their complainants to figure out whether a similar plan was used to harass women," added the officer.

Khalid, who ran a shop in Sadar Bazaar, had allegedly sent obscene and abusive messages as well as video clips to over 1,500 women in Delhi and the National Capital Region.

Meanwhile, police are still trying to ascertain the number of women who were allegedly harassed by Khalid. "We have got Khalid's call details since April... but he started harassing women since August last year. As of now, we have ascertained that he has harassed nearly 1,500 women but the number of victims may be much more. We will get to know once we get his call detail records from August last year to March this year," said Singh.

Traffic policemen oblivious to laws, send them here for active training: Court

ANEESHA MATHUR
NEW DELHI, JULY 7

IRKED AT the traffic police for being "oblivious" to basic principles of the law, a city court has asked the DCP of traffic police to consider training challan officers in the courtroom, so that they get a chance to observe legal proceedings and learn appropriate laws.

The court of Metropolitan Magistrate Rakesh Kumar Singh has asked Delhi Traffic Police to consider training officers who issue challans, after it found "several problems with the system of challaning" in the city.

The order was issued in a case where a driver was challaned for carrying passengers in a private vehicle, but the challaning officer failed to include the stringent provisions of Section 192 A of the Motor Vehicles Act which provide for punishment of the vehicle owner for allowing the violation. The court has said the provisions should be strictly applied to ensure that vehicles registered as private vehicles are not misused.

"If we accept any contrary proposition, the result would be disastrous. A person buys a motor vehicle and gets the same registered as a private vehicle. Then he starts using it to carry passengers for hire. A day will come when everyone will start using the same trick...," said the judge.

The court also noted that Supreme Court had clearly laid down rules regarding private and commercial vehicles in a judgment in 1967.

The court also observed shortcomings in the work of challaning officers, noting that in several cases, it had been seen that the police had challaned the driver of the vehicle, but had failed to issue challans to the owners. Officers were also found to have failed to invoke various sections of the MV Act when vehicles violated permit conditions or entered no-entry areas.

"In such a given situation, it would be beneficial if proper training is provided in phased manner to the personnel handling traffic challans," the court has said. Singh also noted that apart from training exercises by Delhi Police, the challaning officers could also benefit from "active training."

"A courtroom can be a place where mistakes are pointed out, not only by the counsels of accused persons but also by the presiding officers of courts in the course of proceedings. One challaning officer can get an opportunity to observe, see and know the mistakes and also the possible rectifications and thereafter, he may utilise the same for improvement of his skills and may apply his improved skills while doing the duty of preparing challans on the spot," the court said.

On June 25, the court had asked the Delhi Traffic Police to file its response within 20 days.

2 brothers booked for 'punching' traffic constable

ALOK SINGH
NEW DELHI, JULY 7

TWO BROTHERS have been booked for allegedly assaulting and tearing off the uniform of a traffic constable posted in southeast Delhi's Lajpat Nagar area. The accused work in a Noida-based call centre, said police.

According to the complaint lodged by the constable, the incident took place Thursday evening, at a check-post near DAV college in Lajpat Nagar. The two accused, who were in a Wagon R, were flagged down by policemen as the driver of the car was talking on the phone.

"The constable, Manoj, asked him for his driving licence and other documents. The two men in the car started misbehaving with Manoj. The argument soon turned into a fight and the two brothers attacked the constable and tore off his uniform. The accused also punched him in the face," said a police officer.

One of the other policemen posted at the spot informed the PCR, said the officer.

The two accused were taken to the Lajpat Nagar police station. A case under sections 186 (obstructing public servant in discharge of public functions), 332 (voluntarily causing hurt to deter public servant from his duty) and 353 (assault or criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of his duty) has been registered.

Both accused are residents of Lajpat Nagar.

DU admission process most bizarre: CM

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
NEW DELHI, JULY 7

CALLING The admission system of Delhi University "most bizarre", Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal Thursday said the central university does not have quota for city students, normalisation of marks or entrance tests. His remarks come days after his deputy Manish Sisodia wrote to former Human Resource Development Minister Smriti Irani, suggesting Delhi students should be given preference over those from other states in admission to DU.

"Delhi University admission system is most bizarre. They don't have either quota for locals or normalisation of marks or entrance tests," Kejriwal tweeted.

In his letter to Irani, Sisodia had said that due to "anomalies" in the admission process, lakhs of Delhi students were suffering.
